Five things we will not trade away.

01 Your boundary, your rules.

WE COMMIT The organisation decides where its systems, data and keys live, and what may cross that line. HMOS works inside the boundary and never redraws it.

YOU CAN CHECK The boundary, written down, and a record of every crossing.

02 Evidence, not assurance.

WE COMMIT We do not ask to be believed. Every guarantee ships with the means to test it yourself.

YOU CAN CHECK Re-runnable evidence for each stated guarantee.

03 No silent change.

WE COMMIT Refactors, upgrades and automated edits must prove behavioural parity before they are accepted. A change that cannot show parity is labelled as a change.

YOU CAN CHECK A parity record per change: same inputs, outputs compared.

04 No lone authority over critical state.

WE COMMIT No person, service or AI agent can alone alter the state an organisation depends on. Critical changes need independent agreement.

YOU CAN CHECK Approval records naming each party that agreed.

05 Private stays private.

WE COMMIT Private code, data and secrets are never exposed, copied or put to a use the owner has not approved.

YOU CAN CHECK Access logs for private material, and a list of approved uses.
